Borka lesson 11

Monday 15th June 2020

LO: To use imagine a conversation between two characters

Stepping Stones Activity

Reread this bit of the story out loud.

A dog came running out which gave Borka a terrible fright. But the dog, seeing it was only a goose, stopped barking and introduced himself. He was called Fowler. Borka explained that she only wanted to stay under cover for the night, so Fowler showed her into a part of the hold where there were some old sack for her to lie on. She was so tired that she fell asleep almost at once.

Imagine the conversation between Borka and Fowler. Act it out with a grown up.

Main activity

Write down what you think Borka and Fowler said to each other.

Can you write at least two sentences remembering to use capital letters and full stops.
