

Monday 11th May 2020

LO: To plan a piece of writing from a character's perspective

TASK:

Tomorrow, you will write from Charlotte's perspective about why she wants to help save Wilbur.

Today, you need to plan that piece of writing.

Success Criteria:

1. Think back to yesterday's learning about Wilbur and Charlotte's friendship.
2. Put yourself in Charlotte's position.
3. Think about how you might answer these three questions: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- Why have I chosen Wilbur to be my friend?- Why do I believe that true friendship is important?- Why do I think I am the one to save Wilbur?
4. Read the examples that are already there. (You will be able to use these tomorrow.)
5. Add more of your ideas to each section.

REMEMBER: You are Charlotte, hanging upside in your web, doing your thinking.

Why did I chose Wilbur to be my friend? <ul style="list-style-type: none">• he was lonely• a decent pig
Why do I believe that true friendship is important? <ul style="list-style-type: none">• gives life meaning• makes us better creatures
Why do I think I am the one to save Wilbur? <ul style="list-style-type: none">• clever• care for Wilbur

Steppingstone activity

Monday 11th May 2020

LO: To plan a piece of writing from a character's perspective

TASK:

Tomorrow, you will write from Charlotte's perspective about why she wants to help save Wilbur.

Today, you need to plan that piece of writing.

Success Criteria:

1. Think back to yesterday's learning about Wilbur and Charlotte's friendship.
2. Put yourself in Charlotte's position.
3. Think about how you might answer these three questions: - Why have I chosen Wilbur to be my friend? - Why do I think I am the one to save Wilbur?
4. Read the examples that are already there. (You will be able to use these tomorrow.)
5. Add more of your ideas to each section.

REMEMBER: You are Charlotte, hanging upside in your web, doing your thinking.

Why did I chose Wilbur to be my friend?

- he was lonely
- a decent pig

Why do I think I am the one to save Wilbur?

- clever
- care for Wilbur