Plant Dissection in Year 5

Reception creativity in full flow outside

Here are just three of the learning activities that were taking place outside in Reception yesterday – writing, mud kitchen and engineering – if only we had room for the other 15 photos!

Y5 Science

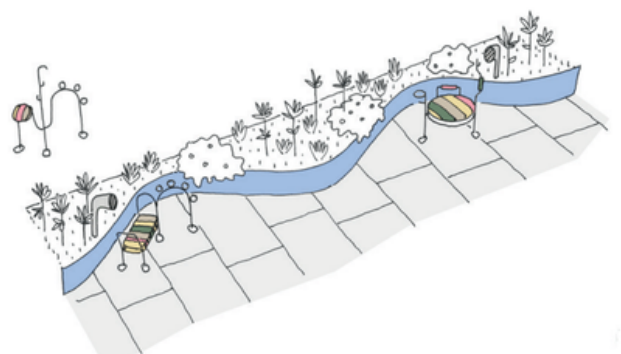

Year 5 have been dissecting flowers to identify and label all the parts, including the reproductive parts

From the Headteacher

Welcome to the Summer Term.

You will have seen that pavement widening work started in the holidays outside the school to improve safety and give some pollution screening. This follows a campaign by the school, including powerful parent voice and Islington School Streets has made a quick response. Thank you again to parents who supported us with emails and calls, it made a difference. Islington is aware that our priority concern is the traffic congestion at drop off and pick up that causes the pollution and we will continue to pursue this issue with the council. As you can see in the picture, once the pavement is complete, planters will be installed to create a green barrier to the road. The seating design was inspired by a workshop that Y5 Rhea took part in with the designers. For safeguarding reasons and to ensure we have more space from the widening works, we have asked for the seats to be placed inside the school grounds rather than on the pavement
