Dear Gale,

I know that you know all this already but I have to write it all down, just in case. Gale, I can't thank you enough for everything you've already done for me and my family. Knowing that Prim and Mom have you to support them, is the one thing that's stopping me from giving up. I know you think differently but I know that I have no chance in the Hunger Games. Firstly, we both know that Prim is NOT a hunter! She's not like me at all! But, she's got her goat and the milk can be traded for bread. Mr Mallark has promised to help too- thank goodness...Secondly, Mom's herbs...
