

Look carefully at the next page from the book.

Things have changed:

- Look at the graffiti in the yard opposite- what is under it?
- Look at what is around the window inside the house.
- Why do you think there is a big concrete mixer truck in the street?
- What are the different people on the street all doing?
- How have the gardens changed?
- What do you think Tracy and the neighbour are doing?
- What has happened to the shop on the corner, opposite?

Write a sentence to explain what the author wants you to understand has happened since the last picture.

You need to look at the activities and choose which is best for you.

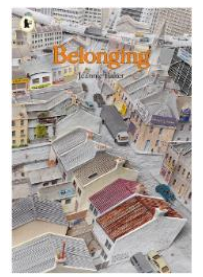

Red hot is for people who want extra challenge.

Spicy is suitable for most.

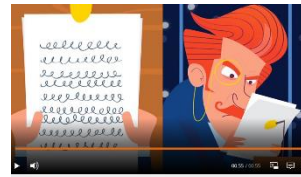

Mild is good for children who need to build confidence, or have no one to help.

Red Hot

When you organise your ideas into chunks based on a theme, you know we call these sections paragraphs.

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/topics/zvwxnb/articles/z9n73k7>

Task

Make a plan of the ideas that could be contained in three paragraphs linked to this story. Make a list of between 3-5 ideas as you do not want your paragraphs to be too long when you come to write them. You can decide on the themes, but I have provided suggestions in the example below.

Example:

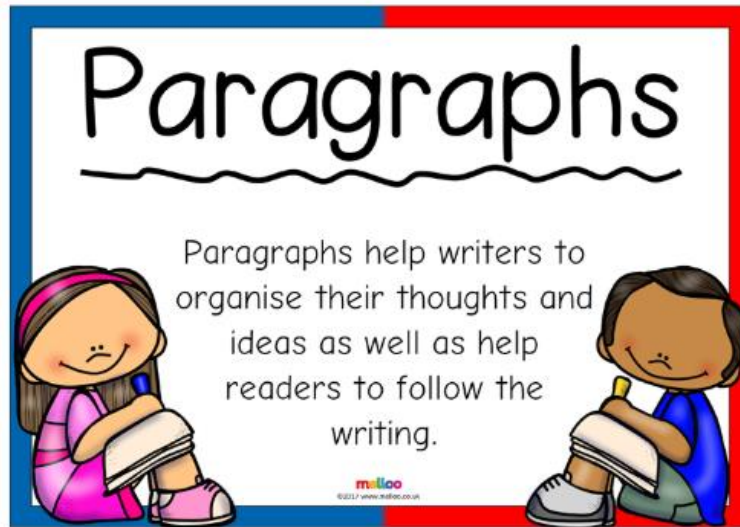

The family	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Story follows events in the timeline of new family • The reader watches stages in the child's life as she grows • They seem like a nice family who are happy together • The family have moved into an ugly area but are trying to make it nicer bit by bit
The garden	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Put bullet point ideas in a list
The town	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Put bullet point ideas in a list

Success Criteria

Create your own table or preferred layout.
List ideas in note form.
Try to think of a logical order for your ideas.

Spicy
